Textbooks on hospital care in low resource, conflict, and post conflict countries

Handbook 1 addresses advanced hospital care for pregnant women and adolescent girls and is used for the training of obstetric clinicians.

Handbook 2 addresses advanced hospital care for newborn infants and is used for the training of neonatal clinicians.

Handbooks 3 and Handbook 4 involve the care of children with serious illnesses and injuries. They form part of the curriculum for the training of the first ever 12 paediatric clinicians in Liberia.

PDFs of all 4 handbooks are updated every 1-2 years and are available for download from MCAI's website by clicking on the links above.

An additional total of 1,000 handbooks (250 of each of the above 4) have also been printed and distributed to other nurses, midwives, and doctors throughout Liberia.

- 1.Doctors and nurses working in 25 public hospitals throughout Liberia (in all 15 counties) who are caring for newborn infants, children, and adolescents; including girls who are pregnant
- 2. Final year medical students
- 3. 18 accredited nursing and midwifery schools.

In March 2022, 1000 copies of the 4 handbooks were also provided for 240 hospital doctors (87 obstetricians and 153 paediatricians and physicians) throughout Afghanistan following withdrawal of international troops.
